

A Bouquet for You

We've gathered these flowers just for you.
Each one carries a gift:

Gladiolas are the flowers of gladiators.
They represent preparedness and strength.

Ferns are for magic and confidence.

The iris is for hope, faith and wisdom.

The chrysanthemum is for wealth, optimism and rest.

The nasturtium is for victory in battle and conquest.

The daffodil is for chivalry and respect.

Bamboo is for grace and strength – the ability to withstand great storms and return upright.

The cattail represents peace and prosperity.

The butterfly represents change.

And what about the elves? They're just for fun.

Flower identification in the art reads clockwise

Story By: Helen Stevens
Illustration by: Helen Stevens www.helenstevensgallery.com/

Flower Power