

LESSON PLAN

Amazing Military Acronyms

Topic: Military Acronyms
Subject: Language Arts

Grade Level: High School
Time: 30 minutes

OBJECTIVE(S):

Students will learn that different communities and groups (such as teens, technology, military, and government) create and communicate using acronyms. They will explore the use of acronyms in the military and experiment with deciphering and creating their own acronyms.

MATERIALS NEEDED:

- "Acronym Tip Sheet" for Teachers
- MilitaryKidsConnect.org website (for information gathering only)
- Blackboard or whiteboard with chalk/markers
- Go to "Related Materials" in on-line version of this lesson plan to access all required links:
www.militarykidsconnect.org/p/lp/high

OTHER RESOURCES REQUIRED:

- Computer with Internet access

LESSON

Suggested Activity Set-up and Discussion (15 minutes)

- Teacher sets up the activity
 - Write the following phrase on the board and read it aloud:
FYI, IMO you should send the FAQs to POTUS ASAP, but NLT 5PM
 - Ask if anyone can explain what the sentence means.
 - Circle the acronyms and explain that they are acronyms and define the term: a word or abbreviation formed from the initial letter or letters of a phrase or term.
 - Review each acronym and identify what it means.
- Teacher-led discussion about acronyms:
 - Many are used in daily life. Ask for examples and write them on the board.
 - Some are so common we may not recognize them as acronyms or know what the letters stand for, such as Scuba, LED, DVD, or CD-ROM.
 - Many groups develop acronyms that create a common language (easier, faster) that may be foreign to "outsiders." Examples—Teens, military, government.
 - Ask if any students are familiar with military life or families. Do they know any military acronyms?
 - Provide the following examples—AWOL, POW, APO, USMC, CONUS—and see if students can parse them (see "Acronym Tip Sheet"). Discuss how they might be used.

Group Activity (15 minutes)

- Bluff Game: Divide the class into two teams. Teacher reads a military acronym from the "Acronym Tip Sheet." Students stand up if they know what the acronym stands for or want to try bluffing. Teacher selects a student to define the acronym. If the student is right, their team gets a point for every member standing up. If their definition is wrong, the team loses a point for every member standing.
